ABSTRACT

The current study clarified the following:

1- The rural woman has a vital and pronounced role in fields of development, education, health, demographic, home economy, agriculture and economics. The role is progressively increased by the education level increase of woman.

2- Non-education percentage has been raised for the rural woman in Beni-Suef Villages which it is still about 46.25%.

3- Many problems that face the rural woman involve; the social, health, environment, education and economical obstacles. The most detectable problems are; the non-education, unemployment, youth migration, low income, lack of both health services and drugs in the hospitals. The Qai² test showed the significance of such problems (at 0.01) among the investigated woman. This indicates that there are significant differences among the woman's views because calculated Qai² values are more than tabulated Qai².
