

The social impacts of Sex Selection On Family:
" "field study"*Abstract:

This study aims at discovering The social impacts of Sex Selection On Family. to achieve this aim, it raises a major question: to what extent Sex selection technology influence on Family? This study comes under comparativestudies that depend on critical, comparative approach to analyze the problem in question, with the help of the selected sample of fayoum families. this study has also depended on a number of statistics that analyze the data collected .The study has come to the conclusion that Sex selection technology Shares in Maintaining family structure, by Provide an opportunity for the couple to exercise reproductive freedom, and that gives them the right to choose the preferred sex, whether it be for medical or social reasons. Which contributed to the mitigation of the size of the social pressures faced by the family because of having sex specific. but that inhibits the demographic balance between the sexes within the family