

Abstract:
Childhood age and its impact on criminal responsibility:
A Comparative Jurisprudential Study

This research consists of an introduction, a preface, two chapters, a conclusion, and a bibliography.

Introduction: Discusses the importance of the research, its methodology and plan.

The Preface: It was titled: An overview of children's rights in Islamic law.

Chapter One: The age of childhood in Islamic jurisprudence and Egyptian law.

Chapter One: The age of childhood in Islamic jurisprudence.

The first requirement: What is the age of childhood.

The second requirement: Determining the age of childhood (the age of puberty).

The third requirement: The stages of childhood in Islamic jurisprudence.

Research II: The age of childhood in Egyptian law.

The first requirement: What is the age of childhood in Egyptian law.

The second requirement: The stages of the age of childhood in Egyptian law.

The third research: A balance between jurisprudence and law in defining the age of childhood and its stages.

Chapter Two: Criminal Responsibility of the Child in Islamic Jurisprudence and Egyptian Law.

The first research: The nature of criminal responsibility in jurisprudence and law.

Research II: The Place of Criminal Responsibility in Jurisprudence and Law.

Research III: Pillars of Criminal Liability in Jurisprudence and Law.

Fourth research: The impact of childhood age on criminal responsibility in Islamic jurisprudence and Egyptian law.

The fifth research: A comparison between Islamic jurisprudence and Egyptian law on the impact of childhood age on criminal responsibility.

As for the conclusion: The most important findings and recommendations.