ABSTRACT

Sebwayeh's Book is replete with methodological foundations that can be recognized without fatigue. This research will take care of one of these foundations, which has not been discussed previously, to clarify its position from the book's approach, and to identify its linguistic issues.

This foundation is The Trustworthy Conversations, of the articulate Arabs, and the professors of Sebwayeh. This research will calculate these conversations, and classify them according to the linguistic levels, and then presenting to analyze them, at different linguistic levels.

The research will show his point of view on various linguistic issues, whenever possible, and will refer to references of old and recent researches that have been interested in explaining, defending, and objecting to the content of Sebwayeh's book.

The research will be divided into two main parts, other than the preface, conclusion, results and the appendixes, namely: The first theoretical part searches in the trustworthy Conversations and their position of the book's approach. The second is an applying part, and deals with some examples of language issues that have been spoken of by trustworthy Arabs.
