

A) Use "which", "although", or "what" to complete the following sentences:

1. Computer experts know.....the best language is for a specific purpose.
2. ....the family worked hard, the results were disappointing.
3. The rainfall.....the city received was heavier than expected.
4. ....they did to encourage such growth was to tend the garden with great care.
5. COBOL was chosen.....many computer languages were available.

B) Add a question-tag to the following sentences:

- Have another cigarette.
- I am not stupid.
- Let me read it for you.
- You would like to come.
- He needn't stay long.

C) I. Define

A main clause, a subordinate clause, an adjective clause, an adverb clause, a noun clause

II. Complete the following sentences:

1. I'll go and see him if.....
2. It would be a good idea if.....
3. If the sun didn't shine, .....
4. She wouldn't have begun to learn English if.....

D) I. Complete with a correct prepositions:

- She is capable.....managing the office.
- He was used .....driving a big car.
- They were responsible.....the accident.
- He is accustomed.....sleeping with the light on.
- She was jealous.....other scientists.

II. Differentiate in meaning between these words:

no longer, any more beside, besides

blond, blonde connected with, in connection with