

Post Abdominoplasty Seroma Reduction With Fibrin Sealant Use

ABSTRACT

Seroma formation is a common postoperative complication in the field of plastic and reconstructive surgery, resulting in significant patient morbidity. The incidence of seromas is particularly high in abdominoplasty where it is reported to occur in 10% to 57% of the patients [3].